

Get Engaged

We have some pretty gigantic goals. That's why we're always looking for like-minded people, groups and organizations to work with us. If you're passionate about people like we are, and looking to bring about transformational change in the not-for-profit sector, drop us a line. There's an abundance of opportunities to work with us.

Knowledge Philanthropists

Want to contribute your talent towards inspiring and building leadership in the voluntary sector? Check out our current opportunities by searching "Vantage Point" on govolunteer.ca. Don't see an opportunity for you? We'd love to match your interests with the many initiatives and projects on the go at Vantage Point. Here are a few areas we've engaged people lately: curriculum development, human resources strategy, branding, website design, facilitation, professional coaching, online learning, evaluation....and the list goes on. Get engaged by contacting Maria Turnbull, 604.637.8288.

Not-for-Profits

Do you consider yourself a learning organization? We do. That's why we focus on providing excellent professional development programs. Wherever you are located, and whether you're looking to strengthen your governance skills, create new people engagement structures or develop the next generation of not-for-profit leaders, we have a wide range of learning opportunities for you.

Investors

Looking for a unique community investment opportunity to significantly improve civic engagement in Canada? By investing with Vantage Point you create opportunities for community organizations to involve more Canadians more effectively. Our corporate partners work with us to bring leadership, governance and people engagement programs to communities across Canada. Want to see Vantage Point working with leaders in your community? Contact: Alison Brewin, 604.637.8207.