

Human Resources: Intro to Performance Management

Align your goals, support performance, and boost engagement

What makes a high-performing team?

Performance management is about enabling people to perform to the best of their abilities. In this half-day workshop, learn what's involved in effective performance management and how to work through challenges with performance. With a strong performance management system in place you can:

- Increase employee motivation, accountability, and performance
- Support organizational success
- Respond to performance challenges

This workshop is ideal for managers, directors, and other people responsible for supervising the performance of others.

Come away from this workshop with the ability to:

- Describe the benefits of performance management
- Identify strategies for implementing the three steps in the performance management process
- Identify strategies to address performance challenges
