

Operational Planning Bootcamp

Develop your annual operational plan alongside a not-for-profit expert

Have you completed your organization's strategic plan and are now looking at how to plan out the details? It's time to create your organization's operational plan.

Two Vantage Point experts will facilitate this full-day session and provide an overview of the operational planning process.

Bring along your current strategic plan and get in-session time to develop your operational plan with the support of our facilitators. You will also get a chance to review several examples of a strong operational plan to guide your organization's plan.

Workshop Benefits

Through this boot camp you will:

- Identify key strategies and activities your organization needs to complete over the coming year to achieve the priorities in your strategic plan
- Identify the skills, expertise and resources required for your organization to succeed
- Learn how to boost organizational capacity by incorporating volunteer positions into your operational plan
- Establish indicators of success and metrics to track your progress

You will be provided with:

- a selection of operational planning templates
- supporting resources

Our experts will circulate to provide one-on-one guidance and share key questions and insights with the group.

We ask that you bring a laptop and a copy of your organization's strategic plan.

Is this session right for me?

This full-day session is ideal for not-for-profit leaders that:

- Have a current strategic plan, including a clear vision, mission, and strategic priorities or goals for their organization
- Are looking for guidance and support on developing or refining their operational plan

Note: This Bootcamp is not intended to examine, review, or update your organization's strategic plan.
