About

Nav Nagra

Communications & Inclusion Manager

Nav brings her positive energy and a keen eye for detail to her role as Communications & Inclusion Manager. She enjoys putting the awesomeness of Vantage Point on paper and looks forward to humble bragging all about our upcoming projects. Nav completed an Associate of Arts in Creative Writing at Douglas College and a bachelor's degree in English and Communications at Simon Fraser University. Nav brings her passion from creative writing to her work and enjoys playing with language. She has been an avid volunteer since her teens, most recently as a board member for Vancouver Art Book Fair and as the Communications Lead for AFP Vancouver's Professional Development Committee. Nav has also been an Editor and Collective Member at Room Magazine for 7 years and currently works with Breathing Space Creative as a Care Consultant. Outside the office, she loves to read, write, knit, and walk around the city with her twin-lens camera. Ask Nav about communications strategy, equity and inclusion practices, your next book to read, and 80s punk rock.
